This Spring's forecast calls for showers!

What better way to pamper the bride than with a party that indulges her and showers her with gifts to start her new life.

- Bridal showers date back to the 16th century as an alternative to the dowry system. If the family was opposed to the union, or they couldn't afford it, friends would bring small gifts to make up the deficit so the bride could marry the man of her choice.
- During the Victorian Era, bridal showers became part of the culture of the elite here in the States. The primary focus was not on gifts, but on gossip and idea exchange... gifts were obviously enjoyed as well.
- In the 1930's, bridal showers became quite the rage, although much more modest than today. Gifts were focused on outfitting a new home: a kitchen implement, a plate, linens.

Give it a tropical twist

- Say si si to bright, fresh flavors! While lemon and key lime provide a classic take, give the tropics a try. Mango and guava offer bursts of color and flavor to brighten showers!
